Trebanos Rugby Limited General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Introduction

This Privacy Notice details how the Trebanos Rugby Limited (“the club”) Website collects, uses and discloses personal information about you.

Personal data is anything that enables an individual to be identified – this includes but is not limited to Name, Images, IP Addresses etc. We are obligated to disclose to you what information we store on you on the website and what we do with that information.

Why we need your personal data

We need your personal data in order to update and operate the Trebanos Rugby Limited Club website, this includes, but is not limited to, creating match reports, producing game image galleries, documenting social events and informing you of news about the club.

What data do we hold

The club’s website will store and process any or all of the following data:

- Full name
- Images
- IP Address(es)

If you are in attendance at a Trebanos RFC fixture, whether as a match official, a player, administrator or supporter of either club, or attending in any other capacity, then your personal data (name and image) may be used in the creation of match reports and image galleries.

If you are present at a social event organised by, or held at, Trebanos Rugby Limited, then your personal data (name and image) may appear in articles on the Club’s website.

When you visit the club’s website, we may collect certain information about your computer. This data can include your IP address, operating system and browser type. This is collected by our hosting provider for statistical purposes to allow us to analyse browsing patterns and website usage and does not identify you as an individual.

Our website hosting provider is compliant with the new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and your information is stored within the United Kingdom.

How we store or process information

Your personal data will be stored on our website hosting provider's servers running in the United Kingdom. A backup copy of the website is stored securely at the club's website administrators' premises.

Who we will send your data to

We will never knowingly send your personal data to an organisation that is not relevant to our operations. We will share your personal data with our partners, namely:

- Our website hosting provider
- Trebanos Rugby Limited

Your rights

You have the right to ask us to ensure that the information that we keep relating to you is correct; is only used for the purposes that we have identified; is not kept for longer than is necessary; and will be deleted upon request. You also have the right to ask us what personal information we hold relating to you.

You also have the right to request that we correct, delete and restrict the personal information that the club's website stores about you.

In addition, you have a right to complain to us and to the website's Data Controller via email at webadmin@trebanosrfc.co.uk
